Winter Activities

Enjoy these Winter activities
with your family:

*Create a winter calendar. Draw a weather symbol of sunshine, a cloud, rain or snow for each day of the month in December, January, and February. If some days need more than one symbol, put as many on as needed. Draw symbols in different colors and see how delightful and colorful the calendar becomes.

*Make snow people sugar cookies and decorate with powdered sugar. Add raisin eyes, a red-hot cinnamon mouth and a thin black licorice scarf.

*Color, cut and paste! Make holiday greeting cards for relatives and friends. Send them out early.

*Make a bread snowflake. Get one piece of white bread and cut out corners and inside shapes to create a unique shape. Bake at a low temperature 10-20 minutes, until slightly brown. Take out of oven and hang outside for birds.

NOTE FROM THE DIRECTOR:

Winter is fast approaching and with the cooler season you may soon see some frost on the ground or be able to see your breath in the air. The smell of freshly burned firewood drifts through the evening sky and bundling up on the couch with a warm cup of hot cocoa sounds just about right! If you drive through your neighborhood at night you will begin seeing homes with hundreds of elaborate Christmas lights, Christmas trees and playful snowmen! But the most exciting thing of all during this beautiful winter season is celebrating the miraculous birth of our Savior, Jesus Christ!

God Bless and Merry Christmas,

Tami Warren
