Positive Attitude

Here are just a few things you can do to assure a positive attitude:

- *Listen, hear, and understand others and their feelings
- *Try new things and allow your child to do the same
- *Be accepting of others
- *Don't compare one person with another.
- *Foster independence and develop a sense of responsibility
- *Spend as much time with your family as possible, both at work and play.
- *Do things as a family that gives you a chance to praise and enjoy one another.
- *Emphasize the positive

Most importantly, have fun and enjoy being together! Those will be the times you will cherish forever.

NOTE FROM THE DIRECTOR:

Happy New Year! It is so exciting to begin a new year. Understanding that today is a new day encourages us as we begin this year's journey. As educators, we are excited to help the children in our care move forward as you do as well in your own homes. A good focus for this month would be helping your child build a positive attitude. Being a good role model is important for your child. As your child grows up, he sees and emulates your way of thinking whether it is of school, work, chores, or anything else.

Blessings,

Tami Warren
Center Director
