NOTE FROM THE DIRECTOR

Help your child become a lifelong reader! By reading together at home, you can open the doors to many places and different worlds. Reading together is a valuable activity and one that is basic to education. You can share opportunities with your child, watch his growth and become a partner in his education. As your child watches you or older siblings read, or as you read together, he's more likely to become a reader himself. By reading together, you can help your child toward a successful future!

SUN SCREEN

The warm weather is fast approaching and we want to remind you to please put sun screen on your child each morning before they arrive at the center. Weather permitting: we will take the children outdoors in the morning and again in the afternoon. We will happily put sun screen on your child in the afternoon before they go outdoors if we have a signed permission slip and sun screen from you. Please see your child's teacher if you have any questions. (Sun screen forms are available in the magazine rack by the office door.)
